American Troops Gain Nine Miles On Italian Front

Advance Is Reported On Central Front—Weather Is Clearing Now

HEAVY ASSAULT MAY BREAK GERMAN LINE

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

ALGIERS, Oct. 13.—A new advance of nine miles from captured Pontelandolfo was recorded by American troops on the central Italian front today.

At the same time, the British Eighth Army, favored by clearing weather pushed ahead on the Termini front, striking west and north to reel off five more miles of Axis territory.

With bright sunshine replacing the torrential rains of the past week, there was every indication that the entire transpeninsular line thrown up by Nazi Marshal Albert Kesselring in a desperate attempt to keep the Allies out of Rome might crumble under the combined Anglo-American assault.

Towns Are Taken
Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's Eighth Army troops took the towns of San Groce, Rocca and Bonifacio in the face of unrelenting Nazi opposition. He thereby straightened out his line, which now runs due south through Guglionese, and wiped out the dangerous salient established by the 16th panzer division in the San Marco sector.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's communique said:
"In the Termini area some further advances have been made."

PA NEW OBSERVES

Shades of dear old summertime! A man sitting on his front steps reading the paper while waiting for the bus this morning.

Pa New wonders if October 12, 1942, when Columbus first set foot on American soil was as nice as yesterday, when the mercury stood at 81 degrees, probably close to the record for this date.

New Castle post office lobby has had some of the elements of a minor Christmas season rush during the past few days as many residents have been mailing holiday gifts to the men in service overseas, this being the last period in which to mail them with assurance that they will be delivered by the holidays. The time limit for mailing is 6 o'clock Friday night, for overseas soldiers.

From indications one of the old time hallowe'en customs of children making the rounds of homes on the last night of October and collecting candy donations, will probably be a war casualty this year. Getting a supply of candy for hallowe'en will be among the handicaps that are experienced in many other lines.

Weather forecast for tonight hints of rain. New Castle has experienced one of the longest dry spells in years. One resident told Pa New recently, that when he wanted to do some spading in his flower garden, he had to wet the ground with the hose, before he could get any results.

City Fireman Earl Patton, who has just returned from a fishing trip to Canada, reports that the fishing during his stay was excellent. He laid claims to landing a 32 pound muskellunge, along with other small fry which weighed ten and twelve pounds.

Moscow is said to be proposing that the council or Europe be created by extending the scope of the Allied Mediterranean Commission

Senate Is Split By Charges On Senators' Tour

President Declares Report By Five Senators Hurts War Effort

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—The senate was split into two warring factions today as a result of President Roosevelt's charge that the five senators who inspected America's war effort throughout the world are a nuisance in reporting their findings to the American people.

The five senators charged in a report to the senate behind locked doors that lend-lease was being wasted, that the lives of a million American soldiers would be sacrificed if Russia fails to give the Allies Siberian bases and that British possessions are getting more consideration under lend-lease than is being given people of the U. S.

Demand Investigations
Administration senators demanded investigations in self-defense, believing that charges made by the five senators who toured the world are a nuisance can be disproved. Administration critics called for a searching inquiry into lend-lease operations.

Mr. Roosevelt made known his displeasure in no uncertain terms. He described the five senators—three of them Democrats—as fellow travelers who are making nuisances of themselves and hurting the war effort by creating bitterness between the United States and Great Britain.

New Deal senators were alarmed over effects of the report of Sen. Lodge (R. Mass.), that high military authorities in the Southwest

DISTRICT FAR AHEAD OF THIRD WAR BOND QUOTA

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 13.—(INS)—The 19-county Port Pitt area of Pennsylvania today had purchased 128 percent of its war bond quota in the third war loan drive, reaching a record-breaking total of $392,402,000.

The war finance committee's last tabulation disclosed that the area's figure was $86,593,100 above the quota of $305,808,900, and that bonds sold in the 18 counties other than Allegheny (Pittsburgh) in area totaled $115,228,000—more than $12,000,000 over their share of the area goal. Allegheny county had 136 percent of its quota.

Robert H. McClintic, state vice chairman of the campaign, said: "The effect of the small purchaser on the drive now is becoming apparent. The 'E' bonds, most popular with individual buyers, are recorded at a slower rate than the larger items."

Mercer Girl Enters Pleas Of Not Guilty

MERCER, Pa., Oct. 13.—(INS)—Janice Graham, 20-year-old blonde companion of William Morell today pleaded "not guilty" to all charges made against her in connection with the triple slayings on the Everett Wilson farm.

In a turn-about from his previous stand, District Attorney Edwin C. Moon today asked that the girl be held as an accessory after the fact. When asked how she pleaded to specific charges of being an accessory after the fact and to being an accomplice, the girl, in a very calm and collected manner, replied: "Not guilty."

"Indicate 'New Evidence'"
Moon indicated that "new evidence" had been found linking the girl to the brutal slayings of Mrs. Everett Wilson, 48-year-old wife of the dairy farm owner; Mrs. Catherine Wilson, 78, his mother, and Robert McKay, 63, a farm hand.

The Mercer County prosecutor gave the impression before Justice of the Peace Thomas McLain that the "new evidence" eventually may disclose the motive behind the triple deaths.

Both the prosecutor and the justice discounted rumors of a "jealous motive," but did not further elaborate. McLain said Morell, who has admitted responsibility for all three deaths, had been "courting the girl for a number of months."

Front line dispatches placed Red army units within two miles of the vital communications and industrial center on the banks of the Dnieper. Refugees from the city said the enemy had already levelled its suburbs.

(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, Oct. 13.—Bitter hand-to-hand fighting flared along the west bank of the Dnieper river today and Soviet forces beat off fierce German counterattacks to increase the threat of encircling Nazi-held Kiev.

Front line dispatches said Russian forces are within two miles of the vital Dnieper bastion of the Nazis and Soviet guns mortars and machine-guns blazed away at the Germans within the city. Kiev refugees were quoted as saying that the enemy had burned down theaters, hospitals and museums and levelled the suburbs.

Fierce Engagements

Hard-driving Russian soldiers, aided by the Red army air force, conducted "fierce engagements" on the right bank of the mighty Dnieper and achieved "substantial successes" in extending their bridgeheads, the Soviet communique announced.

A midnight supplement to the communique told of frantic German counterattacks which were repulsed at great loss to the enemy. Of the action in one area the bulletin said:

"A struggle went on all day for a height commanding the surrounding locality. The fighting repeatedly turned into hand-to-hand clashes. Toward the end of the day, our troops drove the Germans from this height and advanced."

Some 1,500 German officers and men were annihilated in this fighting, and 23 enemy tanks and two armored cars were knocked out of action.

Portugal Is Prepared To Honor Agreement Granting Azores Bases

By GONCALVES SUMARES
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LISBON, Oct. 13.—Portugal was prepared today to honor its agreement granting the Allies bases in the Azores with force if necessary although it was generally hoped that the nation would not become directly embroiled in the war.

(A Berne broadcast reported by the London Daily Sketch quoted the Berne Press as accusing Portugal of belligerency and the Germans were said to foresee "major military and naval operations.")

Reuter reported from Lisbon that it can now be stated that Spain reacted to Portuguese assurances concerning the move in such a way that Spain herself would be involved in war on the Allied side should the Germans attempt to drag the Iberian peninsula into the conflict.)

Marshal Badoglio Proclaims Italy At War On Nazis

Italian Government Of King Formally Joins Foes Of Germany

U. S. BRITAIN AND RUSSIA HAIL ALLY

(BULLETIN)

ALGIERS, Oct. 13.—Marshal Pietro Badoglio as head of the Italian government recognized by the United Nations, today declared war on Nazi Germany.

The 73-year old soldier who did more than any other man to build up Benito Mussolini's short-lived Italian empire, thus brought to an end the equivocal situation prevailing since the surrender of Italy on Sept. 9.

In an official proclamation broadcast from the recently-captured Italian port of Bari and released in Algiers by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Badoglio said:

Badoglio's Statement

"Italians, with the declaration made Sept. 8, 1943, the government headed by me, in announcing that the commander-in-chief of the Anglo-American forces in the Mediterranean had accepted the armistice requested by us, ordered the Italian troops to remain with their arms at rest but prepared to repel any act of violence directed at them from whatever source it might come.

"With a synchronized action, which clearly reversed an order previously given by the authority, German troops compelled some of our units to disarm, while, in most cases, they proceeded to a decisive attack against our troops. But German arrogance and ferocity did not stop here. We had already seen some examples of their behavior in the abuses of power, robbery and violence of all kinds perpetrated in Catania while they were still our Allies.

Savage Incidents

"Even more savage incidents against our unarmed populations took place in Calabria, in the Puglia and in the area of Salerno. But where the ferocity of the enemy surpassed every limit of human imagination was at Naples. The heroic population of that city, which for weeks suffered every form of torment, strongly cooperated with the Anglo-American troops in putting the hated Germans to flight.

"Italians! There will not be peace in Italy as long as a single German remains upon our soil. Shoulder to shoulder, we must march forward with our friends of the United States, of Great Britain, of Russia, and of all the other United Nations.

Wherever Italian troops may be, in the Balkans, Yugoslavia, Albania, and in Greece, they have the duty to fight to the last breath.

Allies Achieve Real Triumph

Action Of Portugal Seen As Diplomatic Victory For United Nations

AZORES TO PROVIDE BIG AID TO ALLIES

By CHARLES A. SMITH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Oct. 13.—A diplomatic victory with a few parallels in modern times was revealed Tuesday in Prime Minister Winston Churchill's announcement that Portugal has acceded to Great Britain's anti-submarine facilities in the Azores.

Germany's smoothly-oiled espionage machine was fooled completely. Even up to last night the Nazis still were claiming that Portugal would resist any attempt by the Allies to take over the Azores.

Actually, negotiations have been in progress in Lisbon for several weeks under circumstances of extreme secrecy. The negotiations were carried out by British and Portuguese representatives alone, although President Roosevelt was kept informed daily.

Bases in the Azores will be of immense strategic and tactical value to the Allies, opening up an aerial umbrella over Atlantic convoys and doing away to a great extent with the necessity for maintaining aircraft carriers. They will take considerable weight off Gibraltar, where all naval refueling and re-equipping hitherto has been performed.

Lying 1,500 miles from the nearest German-controlled point, the islands are comparatively immune from bombing. Although they are 1,700 miles from Halifax and 1,400 miles from Britain, long-range Liberators and Sunderlands can take these distances in stride. They lie aside a more reliable winter route for trans-Atlantic air ferries than the present course and provide a shorter winter convoy route, as well as, obviating the dangers of ice and fog.

PORTUGAL PREPARED TO HONOR AGREEMENT

plazas and cafes discussed the event calmly along with the usual topics of business and sports. All hoped that the granting of bases to the Allies to guard the Atlantic sea lanes would hasten the end of the war.

The Anglo-Portuguese alliance of 1373 invoked by the British was the oldest pact of its kind in the world. Originally a treaty of alliance was signed in 1147 but this was supplemented later.

Precautions Taken
When England invoked the alliance she found Portugal ready to respond but lengthy negotiations were involved before an agreement on ceding the bases was reached. During this period the Portuguese army was fully re-equipped to prepare for anything which might arise from the act.

In Lisbon and other cities every precaution was taken against possible German reprisals and there were some who wondered whether German bombers might vent the wrath of the Reich. Air raid warning systems and air raid precaution organizations were kept in constant readiness.

Germany reportedly assured Premier Salazar through its minister that the Reich would continue to regard Portugal as a friendly neutral. According to the most reliable information Germany will maintain regular diplomatic activity in Portugal and continue to buy Portuguese tin ore and tungsten. All Axis consulates in the Azores were to be closed, however, and Axis Nationals were expected to leave the islands.

RUSSIA ADVOCATING FOUR-POWER COUNCIL TO DECIDE AXIS FATE

and British quarters was that the commission should serve as a clearing-house for the military and political views of the four powers concerning problems relating to the Mediterranean territory occupied by the Axis.

It was intended that the commission should be composed of experts whose functions should consist merely of submitting their conclusions and recommendations to their respective governments.

U. S. officials point out that under the American system of government, it would be difficult for the president to delegate power to an envoy to make vital decisions on foreign policy on the spot without prior consultation with congressional opinion.

The Soviets also want the four-power council to make decisions concerning such matters as the different kinds of declarations, proclamations and instructions issued in the name of the United Nations in the liberated territories.

SENATE IS SPLIT BY CHARGES ON SENATORS' TOUR

Pacific believe a million American casualties could be saved if Russia gave the Allies bases in the war against Japan. They also were worried over criticism of Britain's failure to do her part under lend-lease arrangements.

Some Proposals

Sen. Pepper (D. Fla.), proposed that Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff of the army; Admiral J. King, chief of naval operations, and Gen. H. H. Arnold, chief of the Army Air Forces, be summoned before the Military Affairs Committee.

Pepper, joined by Sen. Hatch (D. N. M.), suggested that the Truman committee investigate lend-lease matters. Pepper also asked that Secretary of the Navy Knox be called before the Naval Affairs Committee.

"We have had an ex parte report by the committee of senators and I don't think the American people will want to pass judgment until they hear the other side," said Pepper.

Meantime, Sen. Nye (R. N. D.) planned to bring the question of an investigation of lend-lease before the appropriations committee today.

MUNICH BOMB FIRES

BURN FOR TEN DAYS

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—(INS)—Ten days after a powerful force of Allied planes battered the southern German city of Munich, fires were reported still raging there today by the British radio. Swiss reports were quoted by the broadcast.

"REGULAR" AGAIN AFTER 2 WEEKS!

"Cereal Brought Relief from Long Siege of Purgatives!"

Here's a sincere, unfeigned letter every disappointed "dosers" will want to read.

"I was a sufferer from common constipation. Took pills or medicines of some kind, but got no lasting relief. Finally, I tried KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN. Have been eating it about 2 weeks now, and have stopped taking pills and things. My bowels move every day. I am a KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN eater from now on!" Mr. Earl Brown, Warren, Ark.

How do scientists explain KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN's gentle-acting, amazing relief, so familiar to thousands? Simply this: Lack of certain cellulose elements in the diet is a common cause of constipation. KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is one of Nature's richest sources of these elements—which help the intestinal flora lighten and fluff up the contents of the colon, for easy, natural elimination. ALL-BRAN does not "sweep you out." Not a purgative. It is a gentle-acting, "regulating" food!

If this is your trouble eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly. Drink plenty of water. See if it doesn't give you the relief you've dreamed of. Insist on getting ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

their progress has been made and patrols have pushed westward vigorously.

In the central sector our forces are moving forward steadily over difficult country.

"Fifth Army patrols have again been active and positions gained have been consolidated."

Heavy Air Attacks

The communiqué also reported heavy Allied air attacks against enemy gun positions and road junctions. A train loaded with motor transport was destroyed in the Termoli area.

Railroad bridges and yards at Civitavecchia near Rome were assaulted by night bombers.

Heaviest fighting on the Eighth Army front flared northwest of Colletorto, where the Germans were compelled to yield the still rain-soaked hills. The British drove through to Sanelia, six miles southwest of Colletorto.

Along the line held by the Fifth Army under Lieut. Gen. Mark W. Clark, energetic patrolling was resumed despite partial floods. Enemy positions on the north bank of the Volturno river remained strongly defended and extensively backed by heavy artillery.

The Volturno front thus remains unchanged; from Pontelandolfo, it climbs north to San Croce, northeast to Riccia and Colletorto and Larino and then due north to the coast, with a central junction at Vinchiato, only 10 miles west of San Croce.

Move Forward

Headquarters of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower announced that the Fifth Army units moved steadily forward and consolidated themselves in new positions.

Eighth Army forces to the east battered their way westward in a vicious drive, said the communiqué which gave no details.

Further progress by Eighth Army units in the Termoli area near the Adriatic coast was reported.

Allied light bombers continued to smash at Nazi-held road junctions and harassed the enemy communications throughout the battle area. Road junctions around Vasto, north of Termoli, were among the principal targets attacked. Fighter-bombers attacked Chersi, Magliore and destroyed a train loaded with transport in the Termoli area.

Inclement weather grounded heavy and medium bombers yesterday but night bombers were able to attack Civitavecchia north of Rome last night.

One British column from the Foglia area, 80 miles northeast of Naples, was reported to have advanced within 14 miles of Campobasso 45 miles west and north of Foglia.

Further advances by the right wing of Gen. Mark W. Clark's Fifth Army which threaten to outflank the Germans on the Volturno also were reported.

Across the front, the majority of the front artillery batteries hurried repeated salvos of shells into the German positions while reinforcements were moved up for an imminent big push.

Patrols of both the Fifth and Eighth Army probed constantly at the Nazi defenses to determine the disposition of German Field Marshal Albert Kesselring's strength.

overcame fierce enemy resistance to capture several inhabited localities. Much booty was taken and considerable tanks and motor vehicles destroyed.

German forces in Kiev, third largest city of Russia and vital rail and river port of the Dnieper, were faced with possible encirclement as the Russians extended their bridgeheads north and south of the city.

And with the Russians in the suburbs of Gomel, White Russian, also was unsteady. The Germans were revealed to have set this important town afire, apparently prior to evacuating it.

Shoot Down 41 Nazis

Extent of the air support being received by the forward-surge Russian troops was indicated in reports that the Soviet airmen shot down 41 German planes in aerial battles yesterday. In addition, in the Vitebsk sector, they destroyed eight Nazi tanks, 40 motor vehicles, three gasoline trucks full of fuel, blew up an ammunition dump and silenced eight artillery batteries.

The air force attached to the Russian Black Sea fleet, meanwhile, raided an enemy-held port and sank a 3,000-ton German tanker two landing barges, two cargo barges and a pair of self-propelled pontoon craft.

New York, Oct. 13.—(INS)—The British radio heard today by CBS said the Germans are evacuating the White Russian city of Gomel. The broadcast pointed out the value of the town as a "fortress which protects" the Nazi bastion of Minsk.

No Funeral Is Too Modest . . .

Because Boyd Funeral Service has a beautiful funeral home, the Hammond organ and generally superior equipment, some may feel that the funeral they could afford would be too modest for such surroundings.

No funeral is too modest to receive the best we can give. In fact, one of the reasons for providing our Home for Funerals was to furnish a proper setting that would make a modest funeral more impressive.

This is a community service. People of wealth and those of limited means find service here equally satisfactory. You are invited to investigate.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

"FAIRY STORY" IMAGINATION

British children seemed to deal with the dangers of air raids in the long-accepted way of the traditional fairy story; the shelter is the den or the magic carpet; the gashmark is the magic wand or fairy godmother which affords security against overwhelming odds; Hitler is a bogey, like the giant or the dragon. So one learns from the bulletin of "British Information Service" of May, 1943.

British adults encouraged this emotional escape through imagination. In making clothes and furniture for dolls, "all sorts of odd materials were cut up to make clothes, bed clothes, bandages, boxes, odd corners in the house and outside, became dolls' houses which were, on occasions bombed."

Moreover, "The feeling of mattering as an individual gives the young child his security. It seems that so long as this is maintained and the child is surrounded by adults, themselves able to remain apparently quiet and confident, even severe dangers in air raids hold no horror."

While the health of the British children during bombing periods has been good, asthmatic children have frequently broken down, and consecutive raids cause much fatigue.

This reference to asthmatic children is significant. Both our boys, up to about six years of age, suffered from asthma. They seem, now in their twenties, to have "outgrown" it entirely. The older affected the more in early childhood, made 7-mile track records for his high school and college.

In both our asthmatic children, Mrs. Myers and I observed asthmatic disturbances during their pre-school years from such hampering emotions as anger, fear, anxiety or strong excitement. Naturally so, since breathing irregularity is a part of such emotional expressions. I wish some medical students with a background of psychology, or vice versa would look experimentally into this field.

Cultivate Serenity

Any parent of an asthmatic child would do well to try hard to cultivate in him a calm, serene emotional life while also working with the doctor to build general ruggedness in this child.

Returning to British children "A National Milk Scheme was introduced in the summer of 1940 under which expectant mothers and children under five become entitled to a pint of milk a day free or at a reduced price."

Here in the United States and Canada where milk is relatively abundant, we need to make sure that it is available for all expectant mothers and children. Even up to sixteen or older, children should consume a pint, preferably a quart, of milk a day. For most children in the U. S., however, it is still a matter of educating parents to see the need of this food and cultivate an appetite for it.

Solving Parent Problems

Q. If I act as if I am greatly hurt and pretend to be crying after my four year old has been naughty it proves very effective.

A. It won't for many more months. Anyway, this is too childish for you. Best punishment, in the long run, means discomfort only to the one being punished.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

That Prof. J. B. Rhine of Duke University certainly has me in stitches again!

He's the fellow, you know, who has a system for making dice do exactly what you want them to do. The system is absolutely infallible, the only trouble is that to make it work you have to be a combination of psychologist, magician and mental giant.

In other words you have to be smarter than the dice.

In case any "come seven come eleven" experts wish to go into the subject more thoroughly, they may get the latest copy of the Journal of Parapsychology and read all about it.

Of course it's only fair that if any of you readers make any money out of my advice, you should split with me fifty-fifty.

You'll have to stand your own losses, however.

There's one thing I don't quite get.

Professor Rhine has such an infallible system of making the dice say "papa" why does he have to teach at Duke University or anywhere else?

Why doesn't he just make a few thousand dollars every night in any of the hundreds of North Carolina pool parlors where the dice are playing their merry tune, and sleep all the next day?

"If they knew," said he, "they'd keep the information to themselves and get to be millionaires in no time at all."

When I asked J. P. Morgan once how to get rich he said: "Work and save."

When I asked Thomas Edison his secret of success, he, being quite deaf, shouted "What?" and turned away.

Henry Ford happened to be with him at the time (I remember it was out in San Francisco.) He looked me straight in the face and said: "Edison's secret of success? Why, that's simple. Just invent the electric lamp."

During my newspaper days, dozens of successful men have told me exactly how to be successful. I'm still writing for a living.

Maybe I'll try Professor Rhine's Lesson in Psychology to Make Money by Shooting Dice.

And then I'll write some more.

"Ladies and Gentlemen—When the last great day shall have come, and the quick and the dead are to be judged, and the angel shall stand with one foot upon the land and one upon the sea and cry, that 'Time shall be no more!' and the awakening trumpet shall have sounded over all the earth and the seas thereof, some sleepy fool from Buffalo will slowly raise his head above his grave's edge and cry, 'Louder! louder!'"

The curtain rose for the last act on the darkened bedroom of the villain. A window was opened stealthily. A dark, crouching form entered the chamber and crept to the bed. There was a violent struggle in the dark. A sickening crash, a gurgling sound, and a heavy object struck the floor with a thud. Inside Washington

Senators Find Plenty On Tour Of War Zones
Uncle Sam Must Learn More About Team Work
State We Must Leave Indian Question Alone

By HELEN ESSARY
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—If the United States is going to pitch in big league international politics, it is time it learned to play ball within its own country. This in simple Americana is the general opinion of the five United States senators who have just returned from an official tour of the war zones.

"This means," said Senator Ralph Brewster of Maine in talking about the 46,000-mile senatorial journey, "that we have got to learn team work. More than this, we've got to copy the superb team-work of the British. Everywhere we went we found the British agencies pulling together in harmony—for the British. Naturally the British are pulling, meanwhile for the United Nations. There is no doubt about that. There is also no doubt that the United States is scattering its resources and brains, and forgetting, sometimes, to which country it owes first allegiance."

Indeed, some of the foreign goings-on of the United States are so bareheaded that the people whom this country most wants to help are suspicious of our purpose. This is another conclusion the visiting senators reached. Especially is this true in Australia. There, when Senator Brewster and Senator James Mead held a press conference, they had to answer this question: "Has the United States imperialistic intentions?" Does she wish, by chance, to acquire more territory over here? If she doesn't, why is she spending so much money outside of her own country?

Our generosity, our determined Lady Bountiful attitude, is disturbing the governments of our Allies, who in self-defense, sometimes try to minimize the U. S. aid, and to hint to their people that Americans are an unstable, changeable people.

A year ago, when most of the world was terrified of the Japs and Nazis, our Allies were happy to accept our aid. Now, so the touring legislators report, many foreigners wish that we would proceed more cautiously with our plans for relief and rehabilitation in occupied and war-shocked countries.

One of the most important officials of a country recently freed from Axis control told the senators that he was frightened at the headlong rush of the United States to move in with help where help wasn't needed.

The lack of correct information abroad about America's part in the war is further evidence that this country is not pitching prudently in the big international league. Senator Brewster declares. "In Chungking, our embassy receives every morning from Reuters, the British news agency, a report that frequently overlooks the importance of some U. S. war effort. Three or four days later, the American news agencies produce their report. But who wants to read an old report? The situation got so bad in Chungking that the American Embassy there protested to Anthony Eden about certain articles supplied by Reuters and published in Chinese papers. These articles were extremely embarrassing to the United States and very favorable to Britain. Eden said he was sorry but he couldn't interfere with 'the freedom of the press.'"

India is one country about which the American legislators have very definite ideas. "Leave India alone," they say. "It's a hot potato. England's hot potato, not ours."

They wonder, too, how it happens that the OWI has one hundred agents in India selling the Indian people on the American way of life. What right, asks Senator Brewster, have we to propagandize in India? We got pretty mad when a recent Russian ambassador propagandized in the United States?

Well, I have been trying to tell you some of the discoveries Senators Brewster, Russell, Lodge, Chandler, and Mead made on their voyaging. It was a thrilling journey. It must be made by every one.

I should like to have the American people know what the travelers learned. It is time indeed that we learned to pitch for America first in this country. It is not disloyal to the war effort to suggest this. Nor is it disloyal to say to congress, you have the U. S. ball in your own hands in our international game. It's up to you to clear up the confusion and lack of teamwork reported by the representatives you sent abroad. You can't blame EVERYTHING on the president. Don't you hold the purse strings?

The World and the Mud Puddles

CAN'T STEREOTYPE HIM.

We have been reading and hearing much of our servicemen lately with good reason. By the end of this year, our armed forces will have more than eleven million men and women in uniform; thus almost all of us have a relative or a close friend serving the nation. Then, too, it is the serviceman who is fighting—and winning—this war. Regardless of how well the production lines operate, victory is beyond our reach unless the weapons produced are put to effective use.

In trying to give us a clear picture of the American servicemen, many writers have fixed upon and represented a type. This is not to say that such a type does not exist, singly, but it is to say that to try to draw a representative soldier or sailor or marine is something of a futile enterprise; America and Americans are too diverse for a common mold.

Actually, the business of trying to type the American fighting man is a mistake. He can't be typed any more than can factory workers or farmers or politicians. He is first and foremost, an individual, as are all Americans, and hence he defies the ability of the most gifted writers to depict him in the coldness of averages.

From individuality stem most of the American fighting man's traits. He is brave, often because he is naturally a fighter, often because he doesn't want his fellows to know that he is afraid. He is resourceful because America is a land of resourcefulness, and he is proud of his country because he knows full well what his country has achieved. Beyond these simple fundamentals, American servicemen run the whole gamut of intelligence and personality.

It is true that the American soldier or sailor or marine wants to get home, but that is a universal desire of most men away from the familiar. But it is not true, to judge from servicemen's letters and other writings, that there is a large lack of interest in the political considerations of war, in the prospects for a peaceful world. The serviceman does not go around braying of a world of milk and honey, but that does not mean that he is not thinking—in terms perhaps more realistic than those of many civilians—of the hopes for averting another global conflict in twenty or thirty years.

These armed forces of our country, which rely upon automobiles and fanatics, the services of the United States are made up of soldiers and sailors, who retain their identity as men. Because men are so various in their ideas and emotions, this may prevent us from drawing a picture of the average American fighting man, as we can of the average German or Jap. But this does not disturb us. Better that we lack an average and still retain the individual character which has made the United States great in the past and which will make it even greater in the future.

BALLAD OF WOMAN'S LOT
These are matters of moment small:
Whether the soup be burned or no.
Hair in papers when visitors call,
Bills too high and the purse too low.
Is it for children a proper show?
How can steak for the meal be got?
What to do for a stone-bruised toe?
Yet all are part of a woman's lot!

Man would flee from these troubles all:
Where do the new-baked cookies go?
Thumb prints smeared on the parlor wall,
Stockings to mend and buttons to sew.
What of the clock, is it fast or slow?
A baseball spoiled by an inkly spot.
A baseball knocked where the zinnias grow.
Yet all are part of a woman's lot!

Into a megrim a man would fall:
If he had worries like these to know:
Roller skates left in the dim-lit hall,
Books to be placed in a perfect row.
Birthday and wedding gifts to bestow.
Care of platter and pan and pot.
A victory garden to water and hoe!
Yet all are part of a woman's lot!

Prince, the bagrants who loudest blow
Would faint though weather be cold or hot
Were life such troubles at them to throw.
Yet all are part of a woman's lot!

SIBERIAN BASES

THE estimate by senators recently returned from the battle zones that provision of Siberian fields for an Allied air attack on Japan would save the lives of a million infantrymen is based in part on statements by American military leaders. It may be an overstatement, but it emphasizes the extreme importance in the Pacific conflict of Russia's cooperation if not its active participation.

In the fight on Germany, Russia has received Allied cooperation, but it has not reciprocated in the sense that Allied military units are free to use Russian soil. Russia has been careful to keep the eastern front manned by its own forces. Just what this portends in relation to the Pacific is not certain, but if Moscow applies the same policy to Siberia, Russia will attack Japan, if at all, only when such action best meets Stalin's needs.

If the Allies had Siberian bases now, the defeat of Japan could be moved up many months. Awaiting Russia's entry may be a protracted process, especially when the fighting in the Pacific becomes severe and the Allies become impatient for every possible advantage.

To those who know the historic situation between Russia and Japan it would seem to be almost inevitable that Russia will attack Japan. It must do so to regain security and a free Pacific outlet. But this does not take into account Stalin's realism. Stalin will apparently make his own decision as to the Japs, without regard to outside influence or pressure.

ROADSIDE BETTERMENT

This seems to be an ideal time for taking unusual strides in the direction of roadside improvement in Pennsylvania. Service stations and establishments of varied nature have closed in large numbers. Many will have to be rebuilt before they reopen.

A renewed rash of unsightly roadside buildings can be prevented by the adoption of an adequate highway zoning program by the next Legislature. In the absence of such legislation, major progress undoubtedly could be made if the oil companies would sponsor an architectural service for their independent dealers, furnishing plans for inexpensive but sightly buildings and for low-cost landscaping of the premises.

The state itself has undertaken an extensive roadside planting program that already has transformed many miles of highway. It is but a short step forward to control the type of buildings which may be erected adjacent to the right of way.

These regulations need impose no hardship on anybody. The probability is that a surprising degree of co-operation would be obtained easily if the prospective builders of roadside establishments knew where to get plans for attractive structures that are not prohibitive in cost.—Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

FORCED SAVINGS

Treasury proposals to boost social security taxes sharply and to refund a part of the higher income taxes after the war, either in cash or as paid up life insurance policies, come under the heading of forced savings. That portion of social security taxes paid by employees has always been forced savings. Now the design is to expand such savings through higher war taxes that are refundable.

If Congress should adopt this proposal, it would be a long step toward a vital change in the economic life of the nation. Always the individual has had the decision in his own savings—whether he would spend them, entrust them to the management of others through investment or hoard them. The government here proposes to take over the management of savings on a scale never before known in history.

At the moment it appears that Congress will defeat this attempt to alter the economic pattern of American life. The program would weaken the government's fiscal position after the war. In addition to the very large commitments which must be made to the men in the armed services, civilians would come in for millions in disbursements from the Treasury at a time when the cue will be to restrict expenditures in favor of debt payment.

The political implications in this proposal are many. And they are all on the side of governmental prodigality.

TIME BOMB MURDERS IN NAPLES

Fatal explosions of time bombs, flung with devilish ingenuity in Naples by the Nazis before they fled, furnish the latest object lesson of the enemy's almost incredible addiction to systematic barbarism.

Obviously the mining of the postoffice could have had only one purpose: the killing of Italian citizens to satisfy the Nazi spirit of revenge. No military advantage could have possibly resulted from this outrage. No rule of civilized warfare countenances such murderous tactics. In connection with the latter explosion in an old barracks building, which killed more than a score of American soldiers and injured many others, a technical excuse for the perpetrators has been offered, although civilians were also among the casualties.

But it would be impossible to conceive of our army, indulging in such deliberately planned frightfulness, which inevitably takes heavy toll of civilians. Since the mechanism of these time bombs has been developed to the point where they are immune to detection by usual methods, and explosions may be delayed for days or even weeks, it's not strange that "everybody in Naples feels as if he were walking on a volcano that might erupt at any moment."

When the day of reckoning comes, the horrible aftermath of Naples should not be forgotten by those who have sworn to bring the Nazi barbarians to justice.

One of our friends says that if he finds on next March 15 that he has overpaid his income tax he won't ask the Government to mail him a refund check. He will be satisfied with a few extra "A" coupons.

UNDESERVED PAY BOOSTS ARE ASSAILED

Committee Advises Congress Of Practices In Government Employment

By ROBERT HUMPHREYS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—The Ramspeck committee advised congress today of new bureaucratic practices by which administrators are building up "personal machines" and government workers are winning fat pay increases by misrepresenting the importance of their jobs.

The findings were made public in a formal report to the house which created the committee under the chairmanship of Rep. Ramspeck (D. Ga.), to investigate government payrolls.

In highly critical terms, the committee said that it had discovered that there is no single agency of the government empowered to exert overall "management control" and declared that "the time has come when congress should give serious consideration to this fundamental ill."

Must Be Corrected
"Until the situation is corrected," the report said, "the taxpayers can expect a continuance of needless hiring and duplication of effort."

Concerning the practice of some administrators to build personal machines, the report asserted:

"Many cases where administrators hire their personal friends have come to the attention of the committee. Frequently, when the administrator changes his post he moves, ten, fifteen and twenty workers with him, their salaries usually being boosted on the doubtful excuse that their duties and responsibilities have been increased."

Other workers, the report continued, are winning "unjustified" pay increase "through the simple device of 'blowing up' his job description, thus having his position reclassified."

Raises ranging from $600 to $1,200 had been won, the report said, through skilled use of "personal jargon" in 300 cases examined by the committee. In one case, a 25-year-old worker was able to increase his salary in four years from $1,440 to $4,600 getting his job reclassified seven times.

"Generally speaking," the report said, "the language employed in the job descriptions is vague and mysterious. Such meaningless expressions as 'wide latitude for independent action' run through all case histories studied. There is a curious circumvention of concrete definition of duties expected in the new job."

State C. Of C. For Retail Sales Tax

Suggests Move As Major Means Of Raising War-time Revenue

HARRISBURG, Oct. 13.—(INS)—The State Chamber of Commerce today endorsed enactment of a Federal Retail Sales Tax as a major means of raising wartime revenue.

To raise substantial new revenues, the state chamber declared, other sources than increased personal income taxes must be found which will deal directly with the inflationary problems arising from an alleged excess of consumer purchasing power.

A strong argument for a general retail purchases or sales tax is its usefulness as an anti-inflationary device which may be employed in conjunction with rationing and price and wage controls," the chamber stated. "The tax would act to lessen the available purchasing power of consumers."

The chamber admitted that to "some extent" a sales tax would "pinch consumers with fixed spending patterns" and "might reducing saving" but it contended that the tax would be offset this "in general" by probably diminishing the funds which would otherwise be diverted into retail markets.

The state chamber took its stand a day after the U. S. Chamber of Commerce proposed to congress the enactment of a flat 10 per cent sales tax to raise an estimated six billion dollars next year.

Labor organizations have expressed strong opposition to a general sales tax as unfair to the "little man."

Judge A. T. Park Dies In Pittsburgh

Widely Known Westminster College Graduate Is Taken By Death

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 13.—(INS)—Hundreds of friends today mourned the death of Judge Andrew T. Park, of common pleas court, who passed away last night in his north side home.

Judge Park had returned to his duties two weeks ago after a long illness, apparently recovered, but became ill again last Thursday, and was forced to leave the bench.

He served 11 years as Allegheny county district attorney, resigning December 31, 1941, after his election to the common pleas court.

Appointed to the prosecutor's staff in 1922 by District Attorney Harry Rowand, now a judge of common pleas court, Park rose rapidly through his ability as a trial lawyer in prosecution of major criminal cases.

He was a Westminster college graduate.

He leaves four sisters, Mrs. Joseph McCalmont, of Ellinwood; Mrs. Horace F. Shearer, Miss Mary J. Park and Miss Ada C. Park. Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon.

COLD disarmed!—because this Anti-Freeze endures HEAT

The thermometer was way up at 57 degrees—and never below 41 degrees—on the day before the first freeze last year in an east-central city. And a midwest city ranged from 48 all the way up to 61 degrees, exactly one day before its first 1942 freeze! The figures are official—and not unusual.

Right here in town it may be balmy today, but bitter tomorrow—and all the more bitter if you sacrifice your car's radiator or other parts that perhaps can't be replaced for weeks now.

Why hope to "feel" a freeze coming? It can't be done. Why wait for the day of danger, when there's no reason for waiting a minute to get your correct fill of Super Pyro anti-freeze?

You needn't postpone safety, just because a few more days might be warm. This same Super Pyro anti-freeze that's made to endure any coming cold, will meanwhile stand plenty of warmth—including your engine's normal 160 or 170 degrees of HOTNESS!

That's why unavoidable stretches of warmth—in deepest Winter, as well as right now—aren't apt to boil off all the Super Pyro needed to meet the COLD. Get Super Pyro today—not only for cold-protection, but to keep deadly rust from "eating away" in your cooling system. Then merely check your Super Pyro occasionally, just as you check the rest of your nearly priceless car. And notice how little you spend from now till Spring for this highly heat-safe, cold-safe Super Pyro.

Somebody Else Discovered His Stored Liquor

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 13.—(INS)—John Zwolinski's inventory inspection brought him face to face with disaster when he came to the cupboard in which he had stored 200 bottles of premium liquor. He had put it away religiously week after week for two years, preparing for his wedding.

But, instead of 200 bottles, he found only three.

An investigation which led to police court disclosed that his younger brother had gone into business with John's bottled stock, and with his cut rates found a ready market. Two of his customers were reported to have paid the boy $2 a fifth for "good whisky," and $1 a fifth for "not-so-good" brands. They were charged with receiving stolen goods.

Zwolinski has postponed his wedding.

It isn't a question of giving back local powers, but of persuading states to take them back.

SEEK TO SPUR DEMAND FOR POTATOES IN DISTRICT

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 13.—(INS)—Too many potatoes.

That's the situation existing in Pittsburgh today as the result of a bumper crop and many incoming shipments—and not enough immediate demand by consumers. So, produce dealers have joined in promoting a $2,000 advertising campaign to induce housewives to stock up the lowly spud, which it was so difficult to find only a few months ago.

It is feared that if the home storage idea is not accepted, the remainder of the crop not in frost-proof storage will be lost.

ALUMINUM CO. PRESIDENT TO RECEIVE HONOR

Roy A. Hunt To Receive Medal in Ceremony At Chicago, Oct. 21

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 13.—Roy A. Hunt, president of the Aluminum Company of America, will be presented with the medal for Advancement of Research by the American Society for Metals at its annual dinner in the Palmer House, Chicago, October 21.

The presentation will be one of the highlights of the twenty-fifth annual National Metal Congress and War Conference displays which opens October 18. The nation's top flight executives, engineers and production men will attend the sessions.

Mr. Hunt has been largely responsible for the aluminum company's forward-looking attitude in research since he joined it as a young man, at a time when aluminum was purely an experimental metal. By consistently sponsoring research and development, Mr. Hunt has helped substantially to advance the arts and sciences relating to metals.

LAY EGGS IN SAME NEST

ADA, O. — (INS) — Mr. and Mrs. Edgar McElwain, who own a turkey farm west of Ada, discovered a nest neatly covered with grass and carefully hidden.

The nest contained three turkey eggs, eight quail eggs and two pheasant eggs.

The question was, which bird was supposed to be hatching the eggs, or were they co-operating in view of a possible shortage in hired help?

The birth rate in the United States has increased from 16.6 per 1,000 of population in 1933 to 24 in 1943.

MARSHAL BADOGLIO PROCLAIMS ITALY AT WAR ON NAZIS

witnessed similar acts of aggression and cruelty and they must fight against the Germans to the last man.

"The government headed by me will shortly be completed. In order that it may constitute a true expression of democratic government in Italy, the representatives of every political party will be asked to participate. The present arrangement will in no way impair the untrammelled right of the people of Italy to choose their own form of democratic government when peace is restored.

"Italians! I inform you that his Majesty the King has given me the task of announcing today, the 13th day of October, the declaration of war against Germany."

Joint Statement Issued

Washington, Oct. 13.—The White House today issued a joint statement by the heads of the government of the United States, Great Britain and Russia announcing that Italy had declared war on Germany.

The statement was issued by President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill of Britain and Premier Joseph Stalin of Russia, welcoming Italy as a co-belligerent.

At the same time, the White House made public Marshal Pietro Badoglio's formal declaration of war by Italy.

Badoglio communicated Italy's action against Germany in a message to Gen. Dwight Eisenhower, commander-in-chief of Allied forces in the Mediterranean, and with it Badoglio's proclamation to the Italian people.

In the joint statement accepting the Italian action in turning against their former ally, the heads of the three principal United Nations government declared Italy will be recognized as a co-belligerent.

The statement was the first joint action in the war which brought the signature of Joseph Stalin, the Russian leader, alongside that of President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill.

Police On Hunt For "Night Hawk"

No Women Accosted Last Night But Several Are Reported As Frightened

Although no women were accosted by the "Night Hawk" last night when they saw men, one of whom assisted one woman when she ran, fell and injured her nose. One of the women claims she was chased by a man on Bleakley avenue hill.

A man who escorted her home claims he also saw the man. However, their descriptions do not tally.

At Wilmington and Laurel avenues, a woman who does nursing saw a man standing upon a corner. She became alarmed and ran. She fell. Her nose was injured. The man, of whom she was afraid, crossed the street, assisted her to arise, returned to the corner, boarded an auto and left the scene.

On Bleakley avenue hill an East Lutton street woman ran to 1111 Pollock avenue. She said a man who stood behind a tree had chased her. An acquaintance escorted her to the Lutton street home. He said he saw the man. However, the descriptions given by the woman and Mr. Reider were at variance.

He said the man was large. She said the man was short.

No solution of the accosting of girls recently has been reached although some suspects have been quizzed then released by police.

Police are patrolling various sections of the city and assert that sooner or later the man who has been terrorizing women will be captured.

Holiday Services At Tifereth Israel

Feast Of Tabernacles Commencing Tonight Continues For Seven Days

Special holiday services at the Tifereth Israel synagogue for the Feast of the Tabernacles, will commence this evening at the Tifereth Israel synagogue, and will continue for seven days.

This holiday is observed in commemoration of the Israel wanderings in the wilderness for 40 years after their departure from Egypt. In these 40 years, the old testament was made. This holiday is also Biblical Thanksgiving season. It is based on the Biblical command found in the Book of Deuteronomy, the fifth book of the Bible.

Prayers of thanks will be offered to the Lord, and the ceremonies at Tifereth Israel will be conducted with four species: Palm branch, the citrus fruit called "Ethrug", myrtle branch and willow branch. Each species represents a different vegetation needed for sustenance of life.

Rabbi Gilbert A. Elefant will conduct the following services at the synagogue:

This evening at 6:30 o'clock; Thursday morning at 8 o'clock; and in the evening at 6:30 o'clock; Friday morning at 8 o'clock. A tabernacle has been erected joining the synagogue where services will be conducted during the seven days.

Young men of the Jewish faith, now training and studying at Westminster, Grove City and Slippery Rock colleges have been invited to attend the services.

BARBERING PRICES

BOOSTED IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—(INS)—Various governmental agencies gave Chicago's new barbering prices.

85 cents for haircuts on week-days and $1 for Saturdays and days before holidays; a deft brush-off today.

Michael P. Mulcahy, OPA director for the Chicago area, said regulations of his agency did not cover barber shops. That let him out.

Robert K. Burns, regional war labor board chairman, said barbers work largely on commission, and even if they get more pay that couldn't be construed a wage increase.

The war manpower commission said it was powerless since the barber business is not classed as essential.

The new prices, including a jump from 35 cents to 50 for shaves, were announced earlier this week by the Master Barbers Association.

GRASS FIRES

City firemen were called out three times Tuesday afternoon for grass fires. At 3 o'clock, they were summoned to East Brook station, Fire Chief James E. Thomas reports.

When sparks from a locomotive set fire to grass along the right of way of the Pennsylvania railroad, Neshannock township firemen were unable to answer this alarm because of engine trouble, it was stated. At 3:55 o'clock, Seventh Ward firemen were called out for a grass fire on North Liberty street; and at 4:10 o'clock, Fourth ward firemen were called to the old golf grounds north of Scott street by a grass fire.

GOVERNORS WILL

HAVE ANOTHER

CAROLINA STUNT

RALEIGH, N. C., Oct. 13.—(INS)—The governors of North and South Carolina revealed today that they are going to hold another of their proverbial meetings. And the Axis should take note this time.

Gov. Olin D. Johnston, of South Carolina, accepted a challenge from Gov. J. M. Broughton of North Carolina to engage in a cotton-picking duel at Columbia, S. C.

The cotton picked, said Gov. Johnston, will be used to make American flags to fly over Berlin and Tokyo.

Maybe we needn't plan postwar Germany. If Stalin beats us to Berlin, will he ask anybody's advice?

captured port of Finschhafen and further advances toward the Jap base at Madang.

Kill 400 Japs

Northwest of Finschhafen, Australian jungle fighters killed more than 400 Japanese retreating from the port on Huon gulf. Additional "appreciable losses" were inflicted upon the enemy in the Allied drive up the Uria valley toward Madang.

"Our ground forces have driven the enemy from outer guard positions in the Uria valley, inflicting appreciable losses," Gen. MacArthur's communique added.

Elsewhere in the island barrier North and East of Australia, Allied airmen pounded the enemy. Manokwari, Bira and Fakak—ports in New Guinea—were bombed by our heavy reconnaissance units, with two direct hits destroying a small tanker in Fakak. Oil fires started and spread to other harbor craft.

Waterfront Set Afire

The waterfront at Ambon was set afire by medium bombers, while night patrol planes attacked an enemy convoy off Cape St. George and bombed installations on Garove island.

An enemy formation of 32 fighters and 12 bombers was intercepted by Allied fighter pilots over Wewak. Eight of the Nipponese escorts were downed and two others were listed as possible.

Meanwhile, the enemy retaliated with three "ineffective" raids on recently-captured Lae in New Guinea, while Jap torpedo planes caused "some damage" to our shipping during a night attack at Guadalcanal in the Solomons.

UNWANTED BEAVERS

SOUTH BEND, Wash.—(INS)—Saboteurs, American style, are playing havoc with South Bend's drainage system. Investigation of a water surplus in the city's east end flats disclosed that a thriving colony of beavers had set up housekeeping in sewers just outside the city limits.

Colecchi Was Charter Member Of Unique Club

Local Soldier Missing In Action Was One Of 'I Bombed Japan Club'

Staff Sgt. Ben. P. Colecchi, listed as missing in action following a bombing mission against the Kuriles Islands, north of Japan, was a charter member of one of the most unique clubs formed among the men in the United States Air Forces, the Bureau of Public Relations of the United States War Department revealed today.

This club is the "I Bombed Japan Club," and was recently formed among the air crews of the United States Eleventh Air Force, an Alaska, to which Sgt. Colecchi was attached. It was formed with 156 charter members and is composed of men who have participated in bombing missions to Japan's Paramushiru and Shimushu Islands in the Kuriles group.

Membership cards are made and issued on the spot at a small photographic laboratory in a revetment somewhere in the Aleutians.

Although started by Eleventh Air Force airman, first to bomb islands around Japan proper from American bases, the membership is open to any airman, American or Allied, who has bombed Japan, or any of her islands. The club is seeking to recruit the airman led by Major General James H. Doolittle.

Sgt. Colecchi is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Benedetto Colecchi, of 307 White street, and was reported as missing in action since September 11. He had served a year in the U. S. Air Force on September 26, six months of which had been overseas in the Aleutians area.

JUDY CANOVA'S AUTO IS STOLEN

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 13.—(INS)—Judy Canova, the screen and radio star, realized today that truth sometimes is stranger than fiction.

The comedienne's radio program last night consisted of a "drama" concerning jail houses and stolen cars.

After the broadcast, Judy walked from the CBS studios to get into her automobile. It was gone. Thieves had stolen it while Judy was on the air.

She spent most of the night at the Hollywood jail—just as in the radio script—reporting the car theft to police and waiting patiently for the car's return.

MORE DETAILS ON ALASKA PROJECT

Reporter Tells Of Conditions Found In Famed Matanuska Valley

Following is the second of four articles by Howard Handleman, veteran International News Service war correspondent, on conditions at the famed Matanuska Valley Federal Agricultural project in Alaska.)

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

MATANUSKA VALLEY, Alaska, Oct. 13.—Less than a quarter of a mile from the rowdy town of Palmer where an old timer doffed his coat and stood on his head on a barroom floor just to show he could, is the civic center of the Matanuska Valley farm colony.

It is a different world. There is a lot more between Palmer and the civic center than a quarter of a mile and some railroad tracks.

The difference is apparent instantly. In the clean little restaurant operated by the Matanuska Valley Farmers' Cooperative farm women and girls serve wholesome home-cooked food, supplied by the Co-op's slaughter house and dairy and vegetable pool.

Mrs. France and her daughter-in-law, Lucille, work in the restaurant. They came to Matanuska with the original colonists in 1935, Lucille as a little girl in the ninth grade. She came from Beecher, Wis.

Lucille married Vernon France, who now drives a truck between Matanuska and Fairbanks. She works in the restaurant for 75 cents an hour. Their families gave up farming some time ago, but now that Matanuska is a successful venture there is other work.

The restaurant is in the Co-op recreation hall, where every Friday night the Co-op shows "the best pictures obtainable here." That's the slogan in the theater advertisement in the Co-op weekly newspaper, an eight-page mimeographed paper edited by Carl Rasmussen, one of the farmers.

The Co-op is the center of life in Matanuska, where only 20 of the 162 farmers still do their own marketing. The Co-op this year is handling more than a million dollars worth of farm products.

The Co-op is for consumers as well as producers. There are more than 400 members of the consumer's Co-op. They get little refund tickets when they buy at the trading post, the big general store operated by the Co-op. Consumer refunds range between five and seven per cent.

There is a Co-op garage and service station, Co-op vegetable cannery, Co-op potato storehouse, Co-op dormitory and Co-op incubator, capable of hatching 36,000 chicks at one time.

MERCER GIRL TO BE ARRAIGNED

Accessory Charge To Be Made As Result Of "New Evidence" Is Report

MERCER, Pa., Oct. 13.—(INS)—The blonde, 20-year-old girl friend of William Morell, admitted slayer of three persons on the Everett Wilson farm, was scheduled to appear before a judge of the peace today.

District Attorney Edwin C. Moon said Janice Graham will be arraigned on charges as an accessory after the fact in the deaths of Mrs. Everett Wilson, 48-year-old wife of the wealthy dairy farm owner, Mrs. Catherine Wilson, 78, his mother and Robert McKay, 63, a farm hand.

Moon said "new evidence" had been discovered linking the girl with the slayings, but he refused to elaborate on his statement.

Previously the girl had been allowed to go free and state police had said they believed her story of being bound by Morell and placed in McKay's automobile before any of the crimes were committed.

Morell himself has told authorities the same story and explained that he did not untie the girl until the pair was a distance from the scene of the crimes. She was found with him when police arrested him in a Chardon, O., farmhouse.

GOVERNOR URGES FIRE PREVENTION EFFORTS IN FORESTS

HARRISBURG, Oct. 15.—(INS)—Gov. Edward Martin made a "special appeal" to Pennsylvanians today urging them to exercise the utmost care to avoid starting forest fires during the statewide drought.

"Some communities in Pennsylvania are facing a shortage of water supply," the governor said. "Fires on their watersheds will create an added danger to the health and safety of our people. Be careful with fire in the woods, and do your part in extinguishing immediately such fires as may occur."

House Minority Leader Martin Says Measure Will Pass Congress

By WILLIAM THEIS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Higher benefits for servicemen's dependents at the senate scale of $80 a month for a wife and one child were virtually assured today when house minority leader Martin announced he would support the schedule.

"I am confident it will pass," Martin said of the senate proposal, contained in an amendment to be offered by Rep. Clason (R. Mass.) when the house begins debate on its own slightly lower version today.

The Republican swing to back the senate-approved rates came after the House Military Affairs committee killed the senate plan, striking it from the Bailey-Clark draft deferment bill.

Members of the committee, however, were steadfast in their determination to "make a fight" for their own allowance schedule. This would give a wife and one child $75 monthly. Committee members maintained

Denounces Plan To Give Big Boost To Estate Taxes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—(INS)—Roy C. Osgood, vice president of the First National Bank of Chicago, and a spokesman for the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, denounced the administration's proposal to increase estate taxes today, contending such a step would dry up the nation's wealth.

Appearing before the House Ways and Means committee, Osgood said: "If through excessively high income taxes the building of wealth through productive enterprise is prevented and if through excessively high death taxes such wealth as has already been accumulated is removed from productive enterprise, there will come a time when comparatively little wealth will remain in productive enterprise."

The treasury in outlining its proposed $10,500,000,000 tax program advocated that the exemption on estate taxes be lowered from $50,000 to $40,000.

Soldier Vote Plan Offered

Proposed V-Mail Method Of Balloting Is Placed Before Congress

WOULD USE PLANES TO BRING VOTE BACK

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—A revised bill enabling soldiers and sailors to vote which eliminate a proposed V-mail method of balloting, was introduced in congress by Sens.
Theodore Green (D-R.I.) and Lucas (D-Ill.) and Rep. Eugene
Worley (D-Tex.).

Instead of transmission of V-mail ballots the bill provides for use of airplanes to bring soldiers and sailors ballots from overseas theaters of war.

A new feature of the legislation provides that if a state fails to substantially comply with terms of the bill, congress can throw out the state's electoral votes.

Thus a situation could arise where action of senate and house in throwing out electoral votes would actually decide the next presidential election.

The bill disregards laws of seven southern states by providing that payment of a poll tax is not required as a condition to voting for candidates for federal office.

COURT CASES

It usually takes two to make an argument but it isn't always so in a court case. A case was called Tuesday morning before Judge W. Walter Braham in which the plaintiff appeared but the defendant failed to show up. The case is one of personal injury brought by John H.
Cross against B. C. McCann for injuries sustained July 31, 1938 when it is alleged the car of McCann collided with the car of Cross. The jury was called and the case started.

In the first case in court room number two, that of John D. Kyle and Edna D. Kyle against William Shiderly a continuance was granted. The defendant amended his pleadings and former Judge J. Norman Martin pleaded surprise and a continuance was granted.
The next case taken up was that of Frances Walker versus Fred Thomas of the Rex Cafe. It is charged that on January 9, 1942, Walker slipped on the floor of the men's wash room in the cafe and injured himself.

Believes Lieutenant May Have Been Hit By Auto; Not Slain

SIoux FALLS, S. D., Oct. 13.—
(INS)—A pathological expert advanced the theory today that Lt.
Naomi Kathleen Cheney of the Women's Army Corps may have been the victim of an automobile accident and not murder.

Dr. A. J. Gurodon, assistant professor of pathology at South Dakota University, raised the possibility at a reopened inquest, although an autopsy report previously stated that the attractive, 25-year-old WAC was the victim of homicidal assault.

"There were fractures of the compression type from ear to ear under the jaw," Dr. Gurodon told a three-man coroner's jury. "This is the nutcracker type of fracture resulting from great force."

"The injury was probably caused by a wheel of an automobile. . . I am not convinced it was a case of murder. I have been skeptical from the start, but that does not mean that murder did not take place."

Lt. Cheney's body was found a week ago today in a thicket near an overpass of the Omaha railroad tracks.

paratus has made possible the use of aircraft aboard the U. S. Navy's largest battle wagons.

Girl Scouts Get High Recognition

National Commendation Received For Work Accomplished At Local Day
Camp

"Day Camp at Cascade Park, like Girl Scout camps all over the country, was filled to overflowing this year with an attendance of 216 girls," Mrs. George Ward, chairman of the camp committee announced today. "But our happiness in knowing the real enjoyment of all the girls who attended was added to when we received national commendation in a letter from the regional chairman."

In this letter Miss Hoover writes:
"The regional camp committee wishes to compliment you and your committee on having such a successful day camp this season. The good average attendance which you had showed that provision was well planned and that the program was exceedingly interesting. The oil painting was surely a fine thought and we commend you on giving an overnight to each of your girls over 10. The five-mile hike should have added to the fun of the overnight."

Mrs. Colin Kelly Will Wed Again

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 13.—(INS)— Mrs. Colin P. Kelly, Jr., widow of the nation's first hero of this war, will be married next Friday to Lieut.
J.G. J. Patton Pedlow, USNR, it was learned today.

Lieut. Pedlow, who enlisted in the Navy six months ago, was a chemist for the Viscose company of Marcus Hook, Pa. He met Mrs. Kelly in Los Angeles several months ago while on an inspection tour of aircraft plants for the Navy department.

It was believed the wedding ceremony would take place in Philadelphia, but Mrs. Kelly's brother, Tad Wick, would make no comment.
He refused to divulge the whereabouts of Mrs. Kelly and her three-year-old son, Corky.

Capt. Kelly became America's first hero of World War II when he gave his life after helping sink
the Japanese battleship Haruna.

Health Talks
By DR. W. A. WOOD
City Health Superintendent

HOSPITALS
Nowadays we have many different kinds of hospitals. We have hospitals for eye diseases, for tuberculosis, for contagious diseases, for surgery, for cancer, for children, for old people and what not.

We have hospitals for the mind too.

Some people seem to think that it is disgraceful to have a disease of the mind, or to be a patient in a hospital for mental troubles.

A hospital is a place to care for people who are sick or injured. It does not make any difference what the disease is of the body or the mind.

It is no more disgraceful to have disease or injury of the mind than of the body.

Diseases of the mind should be taken in time and treated just as well as diseases of the body.

If they are understood properly they are no harder to handle than other diseases.

Housing Being Provided Here

New Homes And Remodeling Work Being Rushed Rapidly

WAR WORKERS TO SECURE HOMES

Work is under way here on the construction of the first of a government-priority group of 81 new six-room brick homes for war workers, Fred V. Brown, director of the War Housing Center, said today. M.
Dale Andrews, of Mt. Jackson, is the contractor for the houses, which are uniformly priced at $6,000.

Cells are completed for 4 houses on Neshamock boulevard and 2 on west Garfield. Four more cells have been excavated on West Garfield, along with two cellars on Sheridan avenue, and one on Euclid avenue.

Complete 31 This Year
The contract calls for completion of ten of the houses by December 1, with 21 more to be completed by January 1. And permission has been received at the War Housing Center to go ahead with 17 more houses which will be built in the vicinity of Wildwood and Delaware avenues.

In the course of the next two to eight weeks more shortly after that apartments will be ready for occupancy, as soon as the 16 government remodeling jobs now in various stages of construction in the city are completed. Two of these remodeling jobs are on the East Side, one on South Jefferson street, one on Atlantic avenue, the balance are on the North Hill.

Provide 136 Apartments
Ten to 12 apartments still to be finished under the private conversion program will bring the total of these to 135.

In making a report of the dispatch with which 197 additional dwelling units will have been handled through the War Housing Center office by December 1, with 21 more houses in sight by January 1, and 17 more shortly after that,
Brown emphasized that occupancy of both houses and government apartments is reserved primarily for war workers who because of special skills have moved into the community from beyond commuting distance.

Applications of 135 families wanting house or apartments are on file at the Housing office today.

Brenda — Will You Step Out With Me Tonight?

I know I've been a awful grouchy not taking you any place lately. But after standing all day at my new job, my feet don't near killed me with callouses and burning. Now I've reformed — or rather my feet have — thanks to the Ice-Mint you advised. Never tried anything that seemed to draw the pain and fire right out so fast — and the way it helps soften callouses is nobody's business! Been able to get some extra overtime money — so what do you say, let's go dancing tonight. You can step on my Ice-Mint feet all you want.

Washington High Second Loop For Champs

'Canes Get Look At Presidents' Offensive; Coaches Study Blocking, Pass Defense

GAME WILL START AT EIGHT O'CLOCK

After battling non-league adversaries for three successive weeks, New Castle high's undefeated gridsters rejoin the Class AA WPIAL title scramble Friday night at Taggart stadium, battling Washington high's Little Presidents. The brawl starts at 8.

The Canes, winners of the rich western Pennsylvania scholastic plum last year, have appeared in one league clash, against Beaver Falls on September 17. The outcome was a 27-0 triumph for the defending champs.

WILDCATS STRENGTHENED
EVANSTON, Ill.—Northwestern is grooming two complete line units today to throw against the husky Great Lakes forward wall Saturday. The Wildcat backfield was bolstered with the return of Nick Vodik, last year's regular right halfback who became eligible as a V-12 trainee. Vodik probably will take the fullback post.

WASHINGTON ON EDGE
Coach "Bill" Amos, who would rather beat New Castle than any other team on the schedule, is working time and a half prepping his proteges. Amos, who has the knack of getting his lads "up" for a game, has his squad on edge.

Washington invades the city hopeful of scoring its first triumph over the locals since 1931. Last year, New Castle engineered a last minute rally to emerge with a 13-7 triumph in the toughest clash on the '42 card for the Bridesbaughmen.

ILINI LOSE TWO
CHAMPAIGN, Ill.—The return today of the injured left end Charles Ward partly filled the gap in the Illinois lineup left vacant by Jim Svednicki and Lee Alberts who were called for induction into the army. The Illini scrimmaged yesterday in preparation for Saturday's game with Pittsburgh at Champaign.

Two Hockey Aces Given Green Light

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—(INS)—The way was cleared today for two Chicago Blackhawks hockey players and others with a similar status to leave their war plant jobs and play the game during the coming season.

Earl Siebert, a recently naturalized American citizen, and Cully Dahlstrom, American-born, were the players affected. Siebert has been working in a munitions plant during the off season, and Dahlstrom has been working in a west coast shipyard.

William J. Tobin, president of the Blackhawks, received from William H. Spencer, regional director of the war manpower commission, a ruling upholding Tobin's contention that, since the players are under contract to the Hawks, playing hockey is their regular occupation.

Football Interest Zooms Skyward

Week-End Attractions To Lure Large Crowds; Union At Home Friday

Football interest here is zooming skyward this week and there is an excellent reason why the customers are looking forward to the program ahead.

On Friday patrons can have afternoon gridiron maneuvers as well as some of that nocturnal football.

Union at Home
In tea time affairs, Union township, still seeking its first triumph of the season, plays host to a favored Zellenople outfit. Despite lack of numerical strength, the Scotland Laners are showing improvement and may hit their stride.

Bessemer journeys to Hopewell in quest of its fourth conquest against a lone setback and a 6-6 tie with Evans City. The Cementers have started to ride in high and figure to win their remaining clashes.

Title Tilt Saturday
In another B date, Shenango township high faces Evans City for the second time this season, battling the EC eleven on the Butler county gridiron Friday night. In the first set, Shenango dropped a 6-0 decision in the last two minutes of action. The locals feel confident of squaring accounts.

New Castle's junior highs—Ben Franklin and George Washington—have the spotlight Saturday night, when they meet for the city title under Taggart stadium's lights. The setto begins at eight o'clock.

Franklin, which hasn't dropped a game since 1941, already has captured a pair of verdicts, while the North Hillers show a one-out-of-three mark.

The Patriots from Cunningham avenue are shooting the works this week in hopes of registering their third successive junior high crown. Washington, winner of the diadem in 1939, strives to haul the coronet up its way by uncorking a surprise.

New Castle's clash with Washington and Ellwood's home setto with Beaver, both on Friday night, round out the card.

SEMI-PRO 1944 OPENERS MAY 1

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—(INS)—Directors of the National Semi-Pro Baseball Congress today approved May 1 as the official opening date for the 1944 season for semi-pro and sandlot baseball throughout the United States.

Each opening game will feature a celebrity on the mound to toss out the first ball.

The tenth annual national semi-pro finals will be held at Wichita, Kas., Aug. 11 to 23 and the Canadian-American series will start Aug. 30.

The directors also voted to change the name of their organization to the National Baseball Congress of America.

St. Lucy's Passers Stage First Meeting

Newly organized St. Lucy's basketball team of Mahoningtown held its initial meeting in St. Lucy's church.

Plans were formulated for the coming season.

Officers elected:
Jim Adamo, president; Richard Priscaro, secretary; Tony DeVidio, treasurer.

A dance will be sponsored by the team on October 21.

STARS IN NAVY
NORFOLK, Va.—Charles Wagner, former hurler with the Boston Red Sox, won 17 and lost five games this season for the Norfolk Naval Training Station.

NEW IN BOWLING
DETROIT—Add bowling slang: A split or railroad is a phantom strike in Detroit.

Duquesne High Grid Pilot Gets Pay Raise

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 13.—(INS)—Lt. John Donelli's pay raise from $175 to $225 a month was offered by Duquesne high school today as proof that no feud exists in the school's coaching ranks.

Donelli, recently placed on the army's inactive reserve list, is a brother of "Buff" Donelli, former coach at Duquesne University. When he left his coaching job at Duquesne high school in 1942 to join the army, he was replaced by Coach Harold Wilkinson. Now he is Wilkinson's assistant.

He says he expects to take over the head coaching post again next year unless "something better is offered me". Wilkinson was reported hired on a "duration basis".

BIG TEN ELEVEN HOODOO TO PITT

Panthers Have Dropped Eight Straight To Conference Foes; Illinois Saturday

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 13.—(INS)—Coach Clark D. Shaugnessy realized today that a persistent Panther jinx hovers over Pitt's meeting with a Western Conference foe on Saturday, and the personal hoodoo is that the Big Nine opponent is Illinois.

Pitt has lost eight straight games to conference opponents. Not since Dr. Jack Sutherland and his famous "dream" backfield" whipped Wisconsin by 26-6 at Madison in 1938 have the Panthers finished up ahead.

Shaugnessy coached at the University of Chicago for seven seasons from 1933 through 1939. He opposed the Illinois team six times and beat them only once.

Squad and strategy staff dug in with a will at practice sessions today in an effort to buck both the team misfortunes of Pitt and the personal failures of the "T" formation master.

FORT WORTH—Six members of Texas Christian's first string are playing college football for the first time.

Sports Ramblings

Sports scribbling:—

Pvt. Fred J. Logan, a localite stationed at Angel Island, Calif., nominates the Del-Monte Pre-Flight team as the greatest team he has ever seen in action. Logan has witnessed countless scholastic, collegiate and professional brawls and knows a good team when he sees one. The squad includes such famous pugilists as Len Eshmont, ex-Fordhamite; Fred Gage, of Wisconsin; Ed. Cifers, Tennessee; Ray Bray, Chicago Bears and Paul Christman, of Missouri fame.

Paul Saffron, who use to tap out news yarns for this sheet about 10 years ago, participated in his third raid over France recently. A staff sergeant, Paul, who is a radio operator on a bombing plane, describes the bomb shower as "dropping down like sausages". Reports that Carnegie Tech and West Virginia will play at Taggart stadium on October 23 are erroneous. There isn't a sound reason why they should.

New Castle and Washington will be meeting for the 17th time Friday night. The Tiny Presidents last beat the 'Canes in 1931, 27-0. . . . Dick McKee, who has been shifted to halfback but still calls signals on the Ne-Ca-Hi team, weighs 162 pounds and stands 5 feet 8. Teammate Roscoe Williams, an elusive target when lugging the oval, is only 5 feet 6 and weighs about 130. . . .

Added strips:—Rice, loser three weeks in a row, is showing improvement. Against Tulane, the Owls reached the 1-yard stripe. Angelo Bertelli, who handles most of the Notre Dame conversions, has booted 14 for 14.

Wonder if the clock keeper at the Notre Dame-Michigan game fell asleep? In case you muffed the oddity, the third period lasted 23 minutes with not one of the 86,000 fans aware of the fact! . . . Disregarding the fact that the cage season ended months ago, the All-American basketball board finally got down to the nation-wide poll of sports writers to ascertain the "coach of the year". Doug Mills, of Illinois, has received the Oscar. . . .

After studying World Series figures, you can't help but observe that baseball's popularity runs on a par with that of a movie queen visiting one of the soldier camps across. The five games lured 277,312 fans who dug down $1,105,784.00. While the figures are startling, what would they have been if the two series tilts had been played in a National League town where the game is regarded with a little more esteem than in St. Louis? As a passing thought, will we have another classic next autumn? I think the "dad draft" holds the answer to the '44 diamond season. . . .

Navy Old Time Foe For Lions; Clash Saturday

Play First Game In 1894; Middies Snap State Streak In 1922

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Oct. 13.—Navy, opponent of the Nittany Lions at Annapolis, Md., Saturday, is one of Penn State's oldest football opponents.

The two teams first met in 1894 but the series was interrupted in 1909 and again in 1914, and was not resumed until 1921. In the last four games, State triumphed three times.

Navy still recalls its feat, however, of having beaten Penn State by a 14-0 score in 1922 to end a Nittany winning streak that had been unbroken in 30 games.

Wilson Star
The Middies brought practically the same club to State college the next year determined to repeat the dose, only to have Lighthouse Harry Wilson reel off three long runs for touchdowns.

Navy outplayed the Lions, 18 first down to four, but Wilson was too much for Middies and personally accounted for the scores that beat the visitors by a 21-3 score.

Wilson, who went to West Point after his graduation from State, gave the Middies even greater trouble in succeeding years as a member of the Army eleven.

U. S. Tennis Stars Dominate Tourney On Mexican Courts

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 13.—(INS)—Competition continued today in the second Pan-American tennis tournament after American netmen swept all but one of yesterday's matches.

Sole loser among the North Americans in yesterday's rounds was Edwin Davis, Junior Davis cup double champion, who lost 6-3, 6-2 to former Mexican champion Daniel Hernandez.

In the women's division, Louise Brough beat Mexican champion Aurora Legorreta by a 7-5, 7-5 score. Pauline Betz trounced Carmen Christlieb, 6-0, 6-2 and Margaret Osborne found Maria Tapia De Roldan easy, winning 6-1, 6-0. Dorothy Bundy defeated Cuban champion Berta Garcia, 6-1, 6-1.

Ed. G. Barrow's Condition Critical

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—(INS)—Edward G. Barrow, 75-year-old president of the world series champion New York Yankees baseball team, was in a critical condition today at New Rochelle hospital, following a heart attack last week.

Barrow's physician ordered him to bed after the Yankee president attended the opening world series game. When his condition did not improve by Friday, he was taken to the hospital.

Because of his condition, the Yankees president was not permitted to listen to the radio broadcast of the final series game but was given accounts of the contest after each inning.

CLUB HEARS COACH
Penn State's Bob Higgins discusses past and future football games every week at a luncheon meeting of the State College Quarterback Club. Films of the preceding game feature each meeting.

SPORT CAPSULES
LOT OF CRIFICES
Eddie Collins was credited with 509 sacrifice hits during his 25 years in the AL.

TRIO ON PRO STAFF
Three former Penn State grid stars—"Shorty" Miller, Harrisburg, Harry Robb, Pittsburgh, and Larry Conover, Atlantic City, N. J.—are on the officiating staff of the National league this fall. Robb's son, Ray, is a member of the Penn State squad.

PLAYED AGAINST NAVY
Line Coach Joe Bedenk is the only Penn State coach who ever played against a Navy football team. He played against the Middies in 1921, 1922 and 1923.

TWO TO MARYLAND
Penn State's football team will make two trips into Maryland this month, playing Navy at Annapolis October 16 and Maryland at College Park the following Saturday.

PLAY IT TIES
When Penn State and Cornell battled to a 2-2 tie in the season's first soccer game, it marked only the 17th time in 121 matches that the Lions have participated in a stalemate.

KEEP HOMER MARK
NEW YORK—Yankees kept unbroken their 19-year-old string of 100 home runs per season. They went into the final month with 78.

LOVER OF OUTDOORS
George Harvey, Penn State's new cross-country coach, is a great lover of the outdoors. He has interested nearly all athletic coaches in hunting and fishing since his arrival at the Nittany Lion institution.

YOU CAN'T TEACH HIM, BETTY!

Demonstration of a left by SPAR Betty Hicks seems rather superfluous when the pupil is Coast Guardsman Gus Lesnevich, who holds the light heavyweight championship of the world. Betty, leading woman golfer, however, was just trying to get Gus in the mood for his boxer vs. wrestler stunt in a "Smokes for Servicemen" show that was staged in Chicago.

Gordon Sets Three New Series Marks

Second Base Star Handles 43 Chances, Has 23 Assists, 20 Putouts

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 13.—(INS)—Joe Gordon, the New York Yankees' second baseman, most likely is congratulating himself today on his transition from the "goat" of the 1942 baseball world series to a hero in this year's world championship play.

In contrast to his dreary showing last year when the Cardinals beat the Yanks four games out of five, Joe this year set three new records for a five-game world title series. He handled 43 chances, bettering the former mark of 35 by Eddie Collins of the Athletics in 1910.

He was credited with 23 assists, topping by two the marks set by Herman Schaefer of Detroit in 1907 and Johnny Evers of the Cubs in 1908.

His 20 putout bettered the old record of 19 which was set by George Cutshaw of Brooklyn in 1910.

Canale, All-American, Joins Steagle Team

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 13.—(INS)—Although their forward wall already is considered one of the best in the National League, the Eagles-Steelers today had added another 235 pounds of brawn, Rocco Canale, All-American Boston College guard.

Canale, a Steagler choice in last year's football draft, has signed for duty with the Quaker City-Pittsburgh combine. He is presently stationed at an eastern army base and will play on weekends only with the Steagles.

Billy Southworth is on the under side of opinion of St. Louis sports writers because he allegedly tried to brush them off before the last game. When they wanted to interview them Sunday he reportedly declared: "Ask your questions hurriedly, and then get the hell out of here." The result of the panning after the fourth game brought on the remark and J. Roy Stockton, dean of St. Louis writers replied: "I hope that's the last time we'll ever have to talk to you." Possibly Billy is like a lot of other people who draw favors and write-ups from newspapermen and when everything does not go the way of the man, who benefits by free publicity, becomes vexed. It does not always bring returns to act childish in a crisis.

The raccoon season opens October 20 in eleven northern counties. Duck season ends December 3.

SERIES VET
Coach Mike Gonzalez of the St. Louis Cardinals is no stranger around a World Series. He figured in only one as a player, the 1929 classic when he was a Cub. But he was a Giant in the 1921 series, a Card in 1931 and Cardinal coach in 1934 and 1942.

LYNCHBURG, Va.—Art Lopatka, pitcher-outfielder, was chosen most valuable player of Lynchburg of the Piedmont League for 1943.

PLAY IT TIES
When Penn State and Cornell battled to a 2-2 tie in the season's first soccer game, it marked only the 17th time in 121 matches that the Lions have participated in a stalemate.

KEEP HOMER MARK
NEW YORK—Yankees kept unbroken their 19-year-old string of 100 home runs per season. They went into the final month with 78.

LOVER OF OUTDOORS
George Harvey, Penn State's new cross-country coach, is a great lover of the outdoors. He has interested nearly all athletic coaches in hunting and fishing since his arrival at the Nittany Lion institution.

Titan Cage Pilot Finds Two Vets At Opening Drill

Westminster Will Be Tall Outfit; Jorgensen Measures 6 Feet 8 Inches

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 13.—When Coach Grover Washbaugh gave his cage squad the once over at the first practice last week, he could find only two familiar faces among the group of 16 candidates.

One fellow that the Titan mentor recognized as one of last year's reserves was Donald "Rube" Bennett, East Liverpool sophomore. Bennett was called into the Army Air corps during mid-season last year, but returned to the campus after receiving a medical discharge.

The fortunes of war placed into Washbaugh's lap, Bob Artman, who was the Pitt Panthers' captain and high scorer last year and the chief trouble maker when the Titans and Pitt got together in their classics. However, as a Naval aviation cadet, Artman will be able to perform for the Titans.

Nine of the 16 turnouts are freshmen. Although the experience will be lacking the Titans will try to make up for this loss with plenty of height. Four of the promising first-year men are well over the six-foot mark, and have come up with respectable high school records.

Jorgensen 6 Feet 8
Noble Jorgensen leads the parade of freshmen giants with his six-foot eight measurement, followed by Fred "Stoop" Paine who towers around the six foot six inch mark. Jorgensen comes from an outstanding basketball family in Pittsburgh circles where two older brothers, Roger and Bryon, were outstanding floor personalities. Paine hails from Hollidays Cove down in the West Virginia hills. Henry Vitkovich, Ellwood City, and Ed Little, Duquesne, are the next tallest members of the squad.

Among the new freshman tryouts are also Dave Davis, Greensburg; Acky Copetas, Mt. Lebanon; Eldon Sturrock, Waterford; Gene Wilson, New Castle; and Bill Jarrett, New Castle. The Navy group includes Bob Artman, Pittsburgh; Bob Boland, Reading; Bill Haddad, Beaver Falls; Mike Capobianco, Akron, O.; and George Connon, Wellsboro.

It is important that all churches desiring to have teams in the league be represented at this meeting. All managers must have a letter of authorization from their minister. The managers are asked to be prompt in reporting to this meeting.

George Smith Added To Chic Card Squad

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—(INS)—The Chicago Cardinals professional football team hard hit by injuries recently, was bolstered today by the acquisition of George Smith, husky 200-pound backfield man from Villanova. Smith will be ready for action when the Cardinals meet the Detroit Lions at Buffalo, N. Y., Sunday.

Bill Powers, who earned all-Ohio Conference recognition as a center last year at the University of Dayton, and Larry Davis, his understudy there are filling like roles on the Penn State football team this fall. Both are Marine Corps trainees.

FRIDAY DEADLINE ON OVERSEAS MAIL

Only Few More Days Remain
In Which Packages Can Be Sent To Soldiers
Overseas

Postmaster William R. Hanna again called attention to the fact that Friday, Oct. 15, is the deadline date for mailing packages to men overseas so that they will receive them for Christmas.

The parcel post window will close at six o'clock Friday evening, and packages which come in after that date, intended as Christmas packages for soldiers overseas, will have to wait their turn in shipment.

While a great many packages have been mailed here to date, Postmaster Hanna has no means of knowing how it compares with the number of men overseas, but he believes that the public here is about as apathetic as the public elsewhere, being unable to realize that Christmas is that near at hand and that it takes a long time to handle the thousands of packages going abroad.

Details Of Costa Death Are Learned

Jeep Accident Caused Death
Of Carmen Costa, U. S.
Navy, At Ft. Pierce, Fla.

Word has been received in a letter by Mr. and Mrs. John Costa, of 414 South Jefferson street, from the commandant of the U. S. Navy of the amphibious force training base at Ft. Pierce, Fla., of the details concerning the death of First Class Petty Officer Carmen Costa, who was killed on October 3.

The letter reads as follows: Dear Mrs. Costa: It is with deepest regret that I inform you of the death of your son, Carmen Michael Costa, at about six o'clock Sunday evening.

Your son was driving down the beach road of our base in a jeep and apparently in some manner lost control of the car. The car turned over and he received a very serious skull injury.

There were no eyewitnesses to the accident, but he was found almost immediately by several of his shipmates and was taken immediately to the base dispensary where our doctors did everything possible for him.

May I express my deepest sympathy to you and other members of the family.

Very truly yours,
G. GULBRANSON,
Captain U. S. Navy,
Commanding.

Can't Find Owner Of Rabies' Carrier

State Dog Law Enforcement Agent Howard E. McLure, of Hillcrest avenue, stated today that efforts to ascertain ownership of a wire-haired terrier, recently killed by Deputy Sheriff George Dean after it had bitten several persons and was found to have been afflicted with rabies, have proven fruitless.

The owner should come forward and disclose his identity for his own protection, McLure states, as no effort is being made to prosecute him because of ownership.

North Carolina is primarily an agricultural state.

Industrials And "Peace" Stocks Show Tendency To Decline Today

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—(INS)—A flurry of liquidation near the beginning of the second hour depressed stocks fractions to a point or more below Monday's close after early steadiness. Industrials were the heaviest losers in the sell-off. Practically the entire industrial list was as well as so-called "peace" stocks participated in the decline. Such post-war groups as rubbers and the soft drink shares had losses ranging to more than a point, while motors and aviation, manufacturing issues, prominent war stocks, had similar declines.

Pivotal losses more than a point at one time were Douglas, U. S. Rubber, Chrysler and Pepsi-Cola. Steels were easier as were the amusements, rails, rail equipments and coppers. Foods were steady with General Foods, on which the company declared a regular 40-cent dividend today gaining fractionally.

Plan Solicitation For Annual Drive

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 13.—The National War Fund campaign in which the country is asked to contribute 125 million dollars will get under way in Ellwood City on Friday.

Solicitors will solicit every wage earner in all mills, business establishments, schools, professional offices, municipal buildings, in fact wherever anyone is employed. Mill workers will have the opportunity to give generously by spreading their payments over a 12-weeks period.

Ellwood City must raise $30,000 and more as it is principally for the benefit of soldiers, sailors and marines, merchant seamen and prisoners of war, with a portion earmarked for relief work among the Russians, Chinese, Greeks, Polish, British and others of the United Nations.

The largest part of the money will go to the United Service Organizations, U. S. O., whose hundreds of clubs for service men have a total of 25 million members.

Every penny solicited here will go into war relief work and local charity agencies. The only cost to be defrayed here will be the cost of printing the window stickers, pledge cards and war fund envelopes.

Mrs. Dale Mason is chairman of the Ellwood Chapter which is sponsoring the project.

Mrs. Welsh, who will leave next week for Army induction, was presented with a money belt, and Mrs. Welsh, who will return to her parents' home at Butler, was given a number of attractive handkerchiefs.

The regular November meeting of the tureen dinner with refreshments being made to join the Willing Workers class in a supper in November at the fire station. Plans were also discussed for the annual Thank-Offering service to be held jointly with the Senior society in November.

The class will be held at the home of Mrs. Hugh Timblin, Wurttemberg.

Plan More Use Of Foreign Oil

Ikkes Moves In Effort To Conserve Some Of U. S. Supply

WESTERN SUPPLY CUT IS ORDERED

By PHILLIPS J. PECK (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—(INS)—The face of a critical petroleum situation at home, Petroleum Administrator Harold L. Ikkes took two major steps Tuesday looking toward larger use of foreign oil in United Nations military operations and a corresponding decrease in the drain on United States resources.

The increasingly tight domestic supply situation was reflected in a 25 per cent slash in the gasoline rations of ten western states.

Less than 24 hours after ordering the western cut, Ikkes announced that an American petroleum mission will leave soon to study at first hand methods of providing "an increasingly efficient utilization" of petroleum production, refining and distribution facilities in the middle east and near east.

Progress Made The PAW chief asserted that "substantial progress" already has been made in this direction, although specific details cannot be disclosed for reasons of military security.

At the same time, Ikkes delegated to the foreign operations committee of PAW—formerly an advisory group—the responsibility for coordinating foreign operations of American oil companies during the war.

American oil companies have large holdings in Venezuela, Iran and Arabia, Ikkes said it was necessary to make the most efficient use of American facilities and oil products abroad in order to hold "to the absolute minimum" the exportation of "scarce" oil from the United States.

The PAW director's action today was in line with repeated congressional demands that Britain and other Allies contribute larger supplies of petroleum to the war effort. President Roosevelt disclosed recently that opening of the Mediterranean Sea to Allied shipping has made such action possible.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—(INS)—The nation's 1943 food supply will be about seven per cent below last year's level, it was disclosed today, with less milk, peaches, pears, apples, wheat, corn and oats available to the consumer.

According to the Department of Agriculture's monthly crop report, however, there will be more eggs, white and sweet potatoes, beans, rice and chickens and oranges this year. There also will be a 13 per cent boost in the citrus fruit crop this year—oranges and grape fruit particularly.

WAVES Will Not Serve Overseas

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—(INS)—The Senate decided unanimously Tuesday that the navy's Waves shall not go overseas.

HALF MILLION LOSS BY FIRE
Box Company Fire At Pittsburgh Spread Speedily Through Plant
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 13.—(INS)—Loss was estimated at $450,000 today following a fire which raged through the F. J. Kress Box company's Pittsburgh factory.
The blaze, racing at almost incredible speed through the plant, destroyed 5,000 tons of paper stock, including brown paper essential in war work.
The flames roared hundreds of feet high, and for a time sparks carried by a brisk wind threatened nearby buildings and homes.
Almost 300 employees of an adjacent factory and office building were forced to flee from their jobs. Firemen, meanwhile, were working under constant danger from falling walls and the possible explosion of 500 gallons of gasoline stored in an underground tank beside the fire-ridden corrugated iron sides of the storage building.
Stock destroyed was valued at $300,000. J. B. Leclerc, president of the company, said:
"The serious part of the fire is that the paper, twine, starch, glue and machine parts lost cannot be replaced. We hope to get relief from the War Production Board, however, and be able to resume operations next week."

THE JUDGE AGREED

(International News Service)
JAMESTOWN, N. Y. — When is a drunk not a drunk? That was the issue brought into city court recently by a railroad section hand, William J. Smith, the defendant, pleaded innocent because, he maintained, "a man has to be down before he's drunk." Judge Allen E. Marger considered this information and suspended sentence.

This year's Victory gardens are expected to produce 10½ billion pounds of food, compared with 7½ billion pounds that came from such gardens in 1942.

The intricate method of transmission among the strands of a spider's web is comparable to a telephone system. Although the spider may be deep in its lair it knows instantly the moment an intruder has settled on or touched some parts of the web. The strands radiating in all directions from the common central point set up a vibration warning the spider of a visitor.

CHURCHILL SAYS WAR MAY LAST TWO YEARS MORE

(International News Service)
LONDON, Sept. 29.—The United Nations were cautioned today by Prime Minister Winston Churchill that the conflict in Europe may have to be endured for another two years.

The British Premier promised, however, that large Allied armies and powerful air forces will strike directly at the heart of the enemies of democracy in the forthcoming year.

Addressing the national conference of women in Albert Hall, the prime minister said: "We are engaged in a struggle for life. Although you cannot say the peril is as imminent as it was in 1940, if the war were so handled that unity of the national effort diminished, that its pace and vigor slackened, that we fell apart and that apathy overtook us—and if this were typical throughout the forces of the United Nations—then, indeed, another set of dangers... would march upon us."

"In the forthcoming year you will see large armies fighting and will see more powerful air forces striking at the heart of the enemy's country."

"But the actual demand made upon the British population cannot be greatly increased... We are fully extended now. We will have to maintain this effort through a fifth year of war or a sixth year if need be, for we will never stop until we have achieved our purpose."

Churchill lauded the war effort of British women who undertook all kinds of work to help their imperiled nation. Then he added: "I have no fear for the future. Let us go forward into its mysteries. Let us fear aside the veils which hide it from our eyes. Let us move forward with confidence and courage."

Count De Prorok To Speak Friday

Man Associated With Many Leaders In North Africa Will Tell About Fighting
French

COUNT BYRON DE PROROK

Count Byron De Prorok, an associate of General De Gaulle, and many other famous leaders in North Africa, France, and Italy, will tell about the thrilling saga of the Fighting French in the present war, when he addresses members of the New Castle Executive club at its first dinner meeting of the fall season, Friday evening, in The Casleton. The wives will be guests on this occasion. It is announced. The speaker will tell about Libya, the Sahara, Lake Chad, Brazzaville, the steaming jungles of French Equatorial Africa, seized by the Fighting French to provide an air route for American bombers and air transports to Egypt; the Cameroons, Ethiopia, Iran, Russia, India, and the Far East as they are related to the allied strategy of the war.

Little has been told about these Fighting French and the part they have taken in the war to date, so his talk will be most timely and enlightening, it is believed.

Amazing results in building STURDY BODIES!

1—Promote the flow of vital digestive juices in the stomach
2—Energize your body with RICH, RED BLOOD!

YOUNG people, especially those of grammar and high school age, are prone to be deficient in stomach digestive juices and red-blood.

A growing person who is operating on a 50 to 70% healthy blood volume or a stomach digestive capacity of only 50 to 60% normal is severely handicapped. In such cases Nature needs extra help.

Organic troubles or focal infection, if they exist, must be corrected. Tissue foods must be digested and rich, red-blood must be present to build sturdy bodies.

SSS Tonic is especially designed to build-up BLOOD STRENGTH when deficient... and to promote those STOMACH JUICES which digest the food so the body can make proper use of it in tissue building and repair.

These two important results enable the body to make use of the food as Nature intended. Thus you may gain a keen appetite... firm flesh... body energy... mental alertness!
